29,572 incidents of service have been recorded in the last nine months including individual peer support sessions, art and computer lab utilization, and more.

By the end of the third quarter the center was providing 86 support groups and 46 socialization activities per month, while serving over 300 unique individuals with 1 to 1 peer support.

In April 2019 we averaged 72 people per day, had 42 new member sign ups, and served 406 unique individuals with peer support and other essential recovery services.

We maintain a clothes closet, laundry services, and showers for members. With 60% of new members reporting as homeless—these are critically needed services.

Part of the Behavioral Health redesign last year, The Wellness and Advocacy Center moved in August 2018 to 2245 Challenger to become part of the Hub, a unique service model that joined peer and traditional behavioral health services on one campus. The success of this model was immediately evident with our numbers doubling in the first months.
