MEMO

Date: November 19, 2015
To: Planning Commission
From: Jane Riley, AICP
Project Planner
Subject: Recommended Code Changes for Vacation Rentals

Background

On November 4, 2014, the Board of Supervisors adopted a Resolution of Intention directing staff to make revisions to the Vacation Rental Ordinance to address issues related to the potential loss of permanent housing stock, property manager requirements and responsibilities, and other issues that might arise during the public outreach process. Staff conducted an extensive outreach campaign which included a webpage, dedicated email and telephone hotline as well as four community meetings in areas where vacation rentals are concentrated.

The Planning Commission conducted a Public Workshop on May 18, 2015, to hear the data collected and analyzed by staff and to receive public input on this topic. Key issues identified during the public process included the commercialization of residential neighborhoods; noise and parties; parking; safety; an uneven playing field for good operators; an ineffective enforcement process; and a lack of response to neighborhood concerns.

Following the Commission's May 2015 Public Workshop and the assimilation of all data and public input collected to date, staff prepared a series of discussion papers and draft policy options for the Commission's consideration. The Planning Commission conducted a public hearing on September 3, 2015, to consider the policy options and to receive additional public input. The Commission continued its deliberations of the policy options to three additional public meetings on September 10, September 15, and September 22, 2015. After much discussion, the Commission took straw votes on each of the policy options and provided direction to staff on recommended changes.

Summary of Draft Ordinance

Staff has now prepared a draft ordinance amending Chapter 26 of the County Code to revise the Vacation Rental Ordinance and address one-room Bed and Breakfast Inns, also known as Hosted Rentals, for the Commission's consideration. The draft ordinance is based on the direction provided by the Planning Commission through the straw votes. The Draft Ordinance and Exhibits include the changes listed below:

Exhibit A – Definitions. Definitions are added to provide consistency with the new Code language, and are amended to allow for hosted rentals and to allow guest houses to be used as hosted rentals.

SECTION III – Changes to Zones. Changes are made to multiple zone districts to allow vacation rentals in commercial areas; to remove the allowance for vacation rentals in the R1 and replace it with an allowance for hosted rentals; and to allow hosted rentals in all zone districts where vacation rentals are allowed. Changes are also made to shorten the description of Bed and Breakfast Inns.

Exhibit B – New VR Combining Zone. The existing X – Mixed Occupancy Combining Zone is amended and renamed to become the VR – Visitor Residential Combining Zone, allowing both long-term and transient home rentals when applied over base zones K or R1.

Exhibit C – New X Combining Zone – this Combining Zone is added to prohibit vacation rentals where it is applied over the base zone. Hosted rentals would be allowed.

Exhibit D – New Section 26-88-118, Special Use Standards for Hosted Rentals and Bed and Breakfast Inns. This new Section sets forth the standards for Hosted Rentals, which were previously listed in each zone under on-room Bed and breakfast Inns, and also moves the standards for establishment of a Bed and Breakfast Inn with 2 or more rooms from the individual zones to this Section, consistent with the formatting of the Development Code Update.

Exhibit E – Vacation Rentals section. This Section is amended to accomplish the majority of the policy direction provided by the Planning Commission through their previous hearings and meetings.

SECTION VIII – Two year permit expiration not applicable in R1. This Section provides that the new 2-year limited term permit for a vacation rental will not apply to existing, fully permitted vacation rentals within the R1 zone. Instead, these permits will continue to expire upon sale or transfer of the property and may not be re-established if expired or revoked.

Other Planning Commission Direction

In addition to the changes outlined above, the Planning Commission provided additional direction that is incorporated into their Resolution, as follows:

Enforcement and Monitoring. The public and the Commissioners both placed great emphasis on the need for enforcement of the ordinance provisions. The Commission strongly recommended that the Board of Supervisors provide additional staff resources to further monitor and enforce the permit requirements and enforcement standards, including weekend staffing.

Funding from TOT. The Planning Commission also expressed concern over the loss of permanent housing, and strongly encouraged the Board of Supervisors to direct a significant percentage of the Transient Occupancy Tax collected from visitor-serving uses to affordable and workforce housing, in order to help mitigate the loss of permanent housing stock to vacation rentals uses.

Tiered Application Process & Fee Structure. The Planning Commission indicated that hosted rentals should have a lower application process and fee structure than vacation rentals. This direction is carried out within the Code changes by setting hosted rentals as a permitted use subject to a zoning permit without posting, and is further carried out by a recital in the Resolution.

Staff Recommendation

Staff recommends that the Planning Commission:

- 1) Hear the staff report;
- 2) Hold a public hearing on the draft Ordinance amendments; and
- 3) Adopt the attached Resolution recommending that the Board of Supervisors make the recommended changes to the Sonoma County Zoning Code related to vacation rentals.

COUNTY OF SONOMA, STATE OF CALIFORNIA,
RECOMMENDING TO THE BOARD OF SUPERVISORS THE ADOPTION OF AN ORDINANCE AMENDING CHAPTER 26 OF THE SONOMA COUNTY CODE (THE ZONING CODE) TO
